

The first ever

SPARTAN STORY SLAM

True • Stories • Live

Spartan Story Slam is a story telling organization based in Spartanburg, SC. The events are held one Monday every other month at Sonny's Brick Oven Pizza and feature seven storytellers, each sharing a five minute true story based on the evening's theme and drawn from the storyteller's personal experiences and are told without notes.

We hope you will find our events to be one part art, one part community building, and lots of fun!

Even if you don't have a story to tell, come and enjoy!

<http://spartanslam.wordpress.com>

Check us out on Facebook by searching Spartan Story Slam.

Find out more information and sign up for our email list by visiting our website.

Spartan Story Slam:
Monday, Sept. 27, 2010
7:00pm to 9:00pm
Sonny's Brick Oven Pizza
(203 W. St. John Street
Spartanburg, SC 29306)

Make plans to attend the FIRST Spartan Story Slam!! The theme for our stories that evening will be "FIRSTS: Tales of the first time I _____." If you've got a great example of something that made you say "Well there's a first time for everything," contact spartanslam@gmail.com to reserve your spot at the story slam.

Stories should be:

- true,
- told without notes, and
- around 5 to 7 minutes long.

Don't have a great story to tell? Make plans to come anyway to have a great time and help us select the winner from the month's line-up.